

FPC PROJECT STUDIO

It proved itself as a valuable rehearsal studio for different groups and musicians and hosted a number of schools that were able to attend technical recordings and mixes. Now FPC has been completely redesigned to become FPC PROJECT STUDIO. Project manager Christophe Giraudon was very keen to develop a recording space with superior acoustics, allowing musicians to benefit from a stereo image (and even quad) But the key to this unique studio is the unique artist you'll find there waiting to help. FRANCIS RIMBERT, an internationally recognised musician with seasoned, sympathetic ears, will be your coach at all of your sessions! Francis will carefully assist your musical project and make available his personal collection of synthesizers, drum machines and sound banks. You'll have access to the best software in computer music - Reason, Arturia, Spectrasonics and various emulations of vintage synths. Your music, our studio. An unbeatable team.
